Macomb — A Metropolis?

"There is nothing to do in this town!" is a phrase often heard in Macomb. Well, there are plenty of things to do in this town. Take WIU for example.

Not only does Western nearly double Macomb's population, it provides employment for a large percentage of parents.

WIU also brought a lot of attention and publicity the summer of 1985 when it was chosen as the location of the Salvation Army International Youth Congress. This brought about 5000 people from myriad points of the globe.

John Cafferty and the Beaver Brown Band came to Macomb January 21.

Chicago Bear Noah Jackson goes up for two.

The comedian, David Brenner, made it April 16 after being cancelled due to bad weather.

5 members of the Chicago Bears football team played basketball at Western Hall. (See photo above)

James Doohan, commonly known as Scotty from Star Trek, was beamed down to the Union where he spoke for two hours Feburary 4.

A permanent feature of WIU is the Union. The Union shows movies for $1.

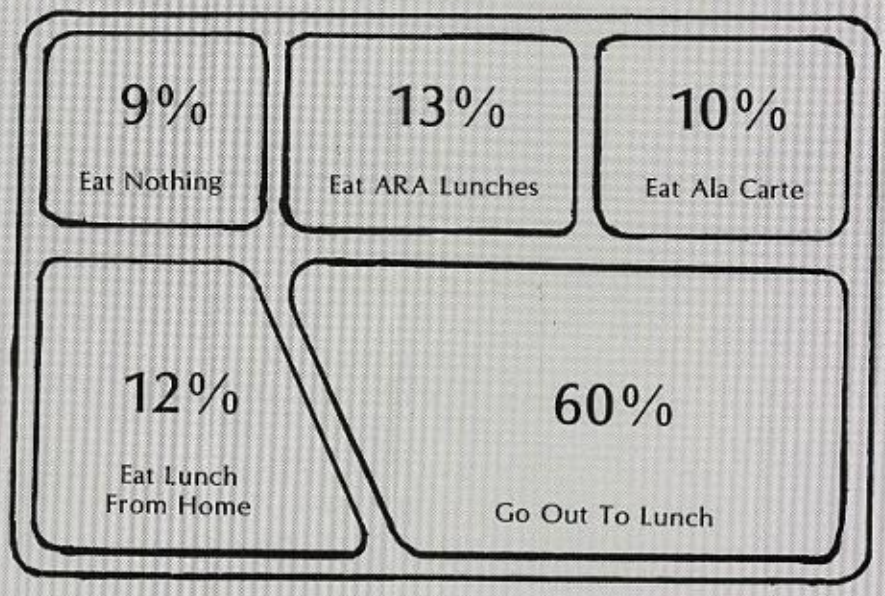
The Saga Food Service employs MHS students during the summer and throughout the year.

The Union also is the location of the Junior/Senior proms. The WIU library is available for MHS students to do more indepth research.

LIKE SANDS THROUGH THE HOURGLASS . . .

SO ARE THE DAYS OF OUR STUDENTS

WHAT KIND OF LUNCH DO YOU EAT?



School: All work and no play

OR IS IT?

To add a little spark to the ordinary eight period day, the student council presented four assemblies to the students during the year.

A hypnotist from Chicago (see photo below) brought twenty students on stage and attempted his hypnotism January 22.

Benny Kim performed on his violin March 4, seventh hour, marking the beginning of Fine Arts Week.

A band from Florida called Free Fare performed their music as well as sent a message saying not to give in to peer pressure.

A ventriloquist provided the entertainment for the fourth assembly.

Other happenings which occurred in the school were the addition of two pop machines and a juice machine in the commons and the instigation of homerooms for Freshmen and Sophomores during the first fifteen minutes of their lunch period.

These volunteers may look like they are praying at the moment, but, while under hypnotism, they are literally unable to pull their hands apart.

2:55 P.M. THE DAY IS FAR FROM OVER

The notebooks are closed and books are straightened upon the desks. Students' attention is now focused on the clock rather than the teacher. The clocks are rarely on time, but the students are aware of what time the clock will say when the bell rings.

Suddenly the bell rings that signals the end of the day. The school day, that is. For many students the day has just begun.

Some students work aft school or in the evening. Ma students have practice for sport or extracurricular acti ties. Some students go out weeknights, but others w until the weekends. How e could the acronym "TGIF" g so popular?

Aside from going to movi the union, or out to eat, it's secret that students like to pa ty. Maybe this is because they' rarely, if not never, find hom work at a party. One thing the will find is a various assortmen of beverages at hand.

Parties can be held in nume ous places including: friends houses, heavily wooded areas, and Lake Argyle.

Argyle has been a popular place for friends to get together during warmer weather. Maybe students like parties because they can get away from parents. Nah, that can't b it . . .

CARDS FAN GETS CAUGHT IN THE "SHUFFLE"

Around the end of June, 1985, several things were happening. To name a few: Heritage Days were in progress, Colt League was finally beginning and the Chicago Bears were getting ready for training. The latter is what we are to discuss.

I would first like to state that I am a "never-say-die" Cardinal fan who hates the Bears, but I'll do my best to be unbiased.

The Bears, unbeknownst to us, were on their way to one of the greatest seasons of all times. They had numerous "characters" on the team including their cocky, arrogant, quarterback Jim McMahon, the extremely fat William Perry and of course, Walter Payton.

The Bears won their first few games quite handily, including trouncings of the Redskins and the Dallas Cowboys.

Week after week, game after game, the Bears kept winning. Around week number ten, the Bears started getting really cocky. They made a record called the "Super Bowl Shuffle." All the proceeds went to feed the needy people around the Chicago area. Although this is a very noble thing to do, I felt the lyrics were quite arrogant. In week twelve the Bears were 11-0 and they were to meet the possessors of the longest winning streak, the Miami Dolphins. Needless to say, the Dolphins destroyed the Bears. The Bears' fans will say it was because of the absence of McMahon, to which I reply ... "Right." The Bears, to their credit, did not lose again the rest of the season. They breezed through the playoffs and went on to the Super Bowl. To my displeasure, the Super Bowl Shuffle was playing in the halls of MHS. William "the Refrigerator" Perry was on top of the world and the Bears were destined to meet the New England Patriots in Super Bowl XX. The Bears obliterated the Pats and went on to be the World Champs in 1986. I guess the song was right. The Bears are to be congratulated on a fine season, but watch out for the Cards next year!

WORKING CLASS KIDS

In a survey of about 145 Juniors and Seniors it was discovered that 58% have a part-time job. Approximately 55 area businesses employ these students. Some examples are food and clothing stores, nursing homes, theatres, etc.

14% of the students said that their work hours interfere with extra-curricular activities. 16% said that their work hours interfere with homework. 32% said that work interferes with homework and extracurricular activities. 38% said that work does not interfere with homework or extracurricular activities.

89% of the working students earn minimum wage or more (see graph). 81% of the students work more than 10 hours per week (see graph).

Some of the things that students like about their jobs are meeting people, flexible hours, working with kids, paychecks, talking to people, breaks, co-workers and making deliveries.

Work isn't all fun and games. Students also noted that late hours, washing pots and pans, mean customers, the boss, rush-hours and taking out the trash to be the things they dislike.

There was a wide range of answers to how students spend their money. The most frequent answers were clothes, savings accounts, car payments, entertainment and gas. Less frequent responses were movies, music, food, activities, weekends and friends.

How Much Do They Earn?

HANDS ACROSS MACOMB

It began with the single "We Are the World" of 30 U.S. singers raising money for the needy in Ethiopia. From that point, various groups formed in vain attempts to provide the needy with a miraculous renaissance period. Live Aid, Band Aid and Sports Aid were a few. On May 25, millions of people joined together to form a human chain across America. In order to be a part of this human chain, a donation had to be made.

On May 3, Macomb attempted its version of Hands Across Macomb. For a one dollar pledge, any Macombite could extend his hand to help the needy.

These Macombites joined hands May 3 to help support the Hands Across America cause ...

YOU CAN TAKE THE KID FROM THE ACTIVITY, BUT YOU CAN'T TAKE THE ACTIVITY FROM THE KID.

OR CAN THEY?

According to a survey of Juniors taken by Chris Smith, many of them said they would consider graduating early. Now that sounds as if the activity had died down within the kid just a little.

But no one said it was going to be easy. The referendum was one of the biggest issues of the '85-86 year. Due to several factors, an increase in inflation and in teachers' salaries, to name a few.

The referendum was a raise in the property taxes by $.80. When the day of voting came, the referendum failed nearly 7 to 3. Evidently people had other concerns besides a good educational system.

After the referendum failed, the board had to consider several painful cuts. Little did anyone realize they were going to cut the entire extra-curricular program, twenty-five teachers, numerous advanced classes, and close an entire school.

The first reaction was a walkout. Also a march was led from the high school. Each student who participated in the march signed a piece of pink paper with the Macomb School's logo printed on it indicating our schools are fading.

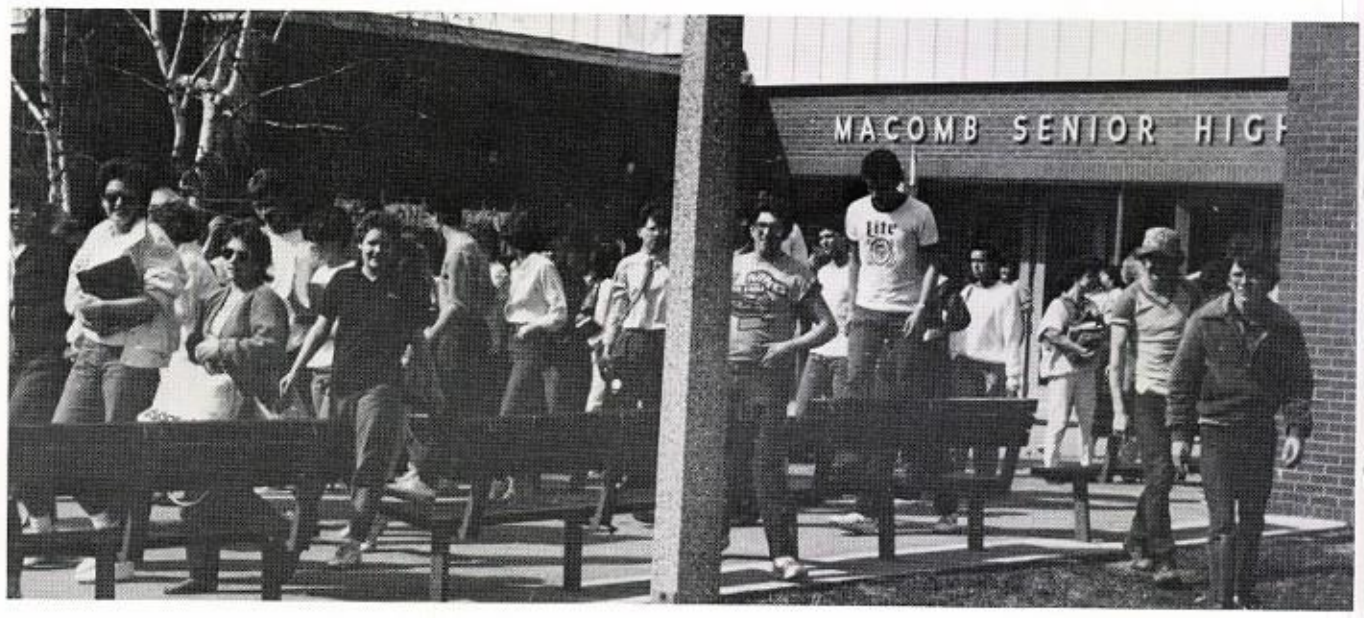
The students then silently marched through the board office and handed their petitions to the secretary.

Some students also wore black on the day teachers were to be notified of termination.

After some debate the extra-curricular activities were reinstated.

In order for extra-curricular activities to be reinstated, students would pay $60 for each initial activity; then an additional $60 for a second activity would be payed. For three or more activities, only $5 would be added. Families of more than one student wouldn't have to pay more than a total of $150.

Also, to get students active in the fund raising, a jog-a-thon was held July 12 to raise pledges from the members of the community as well as from relatives. The goal of the jog-a-thon was $100,000.



About 400 students, half the student body, participated in the walkout in reaction to the board's decision, knowing the consequences.

Aries

(March 21-April 19)

Arians' strongest characteristic is their courage. This very courage, however, leads them into impulsive acts. They never hesitate to undertake a difficult task, but at times they should consider its worth. Arians make good bodyguards and are involved, caring people.

Generally, Taureans are very romantic and peaceful. Their strong, silent attitude sometimes leads to stubborness. People whose birthdays fall under this Sun sign speak sparingly and want to be left alone, undisturbed. If pushed too far, Taureans are capable of sudden violent rage.

Geminis talk fast and listen quickly. If they can't find enough things to busy themselves, they become easily restless and may often change their personalities. Geminis are very clever, witty and most of all, intelligent. They will always look much younger than their age. Many Geminis are able to do two or three tasks simultaneously.

(July 23-Aug. 22)

Planet: Sun
Symbol: Lion

Leos are born rulers. The wise optimistic, dignified Leos are never afraid to take charge. They usually take responsibility well. However, they are not too responsible with their money and may become spectacular gamblers. Leos feel superior to others and love to give free advice. They hate boredom, are energetically social and love to be the center of attention. If you want to make the proud lions happy, just flatter them.

Cancer

(June 22-July 22)

Planet: Moon
Symbol: Crab

Cancerians are normally quiet, gentle, understanding people. However, they possess many intense moods that change often. They secretly enjoy attention and are very patriotic. Cancerians have fragile, vulnerable hearts. They are very sentimental and love their home and family. When they are sad, they seek retreat and solitude just like their symbol. They don't shrug off mistakes easily and are not likely to bounce back quickly.

Virgo

(Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

Planet: Mercury
Symbol: Virgin

The symbol for Virgo is not to be taken too literally. Most Virgos are quiet and not very social. They tend to be natural worriers, and are concerned with the tiniest detail. Virgos may have a fragile appearance, but are generally stronger than their physique belies. They are dependable, sincere and have a logical mind. Virgos frown upon laziness, gushy sentiment, vulgarity and wastefulness. They are very neat, and are careful about their health. Once the Virgo has learned to master details, rather than let details master him, he can shape his own destiny with more certainty than any other sign.

Libra

(Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

Planet: Venus
Symbol: Scales

Librans are known for their 'laziness'. However, they are only resting after hours of hard work. Their personality tilts back and forth like their symbol and they may become annoying, quarrelsome, or restless. However, there is nothing more satisfying to anyone around them than when the Libran scales are perfectly balanced. Once 'balanced', Librans seek fairness, love, are gentle and intelligent, graceful, and understanding. Because of their righteousness, Librans make good peacemakers and mediators.

YOU ARE NOW ENTERING: THE SENIORITIS ZONE

Senioritis — this dreaded disease runs rampant here. Seniors who are afflicted display many different symptoms. They are invariably students in several study halls, where they participate in "senior activities," which can be collectively described as anything except homework. Seniors also believe that the phrase "but I'm a senior" is their password to heaven. Unfortunately, it won't even get them past a hall monitor. Sleeping is a favorite senior pastime. They can be found doing this in class, during assemblies, and at home, in bed, as the first period bell is ringing on a Monday morning. Everyone "blows off" a class on occasion, but seniors carry this to an extreme. Unfortunately, many of them run the risk of having to take their second semester finals. "Senior Skip Day" is a revered tradition in our school. Perhaps it is also the last remaining tribute to senior superiority.

STUDYING: THE OUTER LIMITS

Studying — one of the best known causes of Senioritis is always one of the important decisions students must make during their senior year. "Hitting the books" is usually one of the least enjoyed aspects of being a studious Senior. Generally, we tend to think our school has a very comfortable atmosphere for studying. However, when asked about where their favorite place to study was, most Seniors said such a place was non-existant. Some of them said they didn't even study during their senior year. Gee . . . who could imagine that? There's only one time when nearly every Senior decides to do a little studying. That's during the first semester tests of their senior year. It's virtually the last chance to give a boost to low G.P.A.'s. For the second semester, if they get an "A" for the fourth quarter in a class, they can get out of semester tests and the hours of studying involved.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Our Senior Thespians, Raina Ames, Amy Forness, Tom Furman, Robert Hughes, and Mike Newell have contributed many hours of work and dedication over their four years at MHS to help present many of the four annual performances.

Raina has been cast in rather lengthy roles in Spoon River Anthology, a dessert Theatre One-Act, You Can't Take It With You, and Harvey. Amy Forness has had a major role in a play for One-Acts her junior year. Both Amy and Raina have worked at Macomb Community Theatre also. Tom Furman has worked on lights and was in a Dessert Theatre play his Senior year. Robert Hughes was in Ten Little Indians, a One-Act play, and the 1984 Musical Brigadoon. Mike Newell performed in Brigadoon, Spoon River Anthology, and You Can't Take It With You.

Over one-fourth of the school's enrollment participates in band, orchestra or a choral group. However, only 5% are seniors.

The MHS Band has played an important part in the majority of the students' lives. In 20° weather it's none other than the Macomb High School Band marching on the football field entertaining the fans during half time and pre-game show. Our senior band members include Tonye Amachree, Jennifer Dugle, Jennifer Gray, Robert Hughes, David Husband, Michele Johnson, John Meixner,Toby Powell, Misty Prueter, Daria Roche, John Savage, Becky Sutton, Cassy Taylor, and Donna Wynn.

A few of these seniors have made noteable accomplishments. Jennifer Dugle, a french horn player who was new her senior year, was asked to play with the WIU Marching Band. Toby Powell went to All-State his Junior year and made third chair in the Honors Band with the contrabass. Robert Hughes was selected as Drum major his senior year.

Music is not always instrumental as the twenty-six seniors in Concert Choir can tell you. Mary Neumann, orchestra's sole senior, took first chair in Districts and went to All-State. Donna Wynn, John Meixner, and Michele Johnson are the seniors in the Jazz Band of about twenty-three members.

ORANGE AND BLACK ATTACK

Anyone who has participated in a sport knows it's nice to have people cheering him on. Spectators at a football or basketball game know by the array of orange and black worn by the fans that we have spirit. Okay, so who's looking at the crowd's attire? Then close your eyes and listen. Senior Football Cheerleaders Von Dunnegan, Darcy Rexroat, and Amy Sherwood helped keep the crowds full of spirit. The best audience-reaction cheers are the ones that require an answer, and most effectively, the cheers that are directed at one class at a time. Of course the senior class usually wins on the Richter Scale.

However, spirit is not just yelling cheers to overcome the noise of the game. The Bomber Car, owned by the B-29's, was proudly displayed in both our Homecoming parade and Western's Homecoming parade. These seniors have showed they're willing to stand out to display their Bomber pride.

And how many schools send their percussion section of the band marching around the school at 7:40 a.m. in their long-johns? In most every sport, on the day of the game or meet, signs are usually put up on the team's lockers.

Seniors are probably the loudest when it comes to cheering because they know it will be their last chance to yell at the little guys running around in orange and black. Whatever the reason behind their craziness, they add spirit to the extracurricular activities — and pride.

BOMBERS DO IT WITH STYLE

Sports have played an important part in seniors' lives since they were freshmen. For the most part, the grads of '86 are avid supporters of sports whether they participated or were spectators. Some of this year's best players are Tonye Amachree, Roman Bormet, and Max Ford, who were selected for the Illinois All Conference Football Team; Matt Margenthaler, who made all conference basketball; and Melanie Gibbs, who was a state qualifier in tennis.

When asked what they achieved by participating in a team sport, many senior players said that meeting new people, making friends, improving their game, and having the thrill of winning were probably the best things they got out of sports. They also learned that being on a team, no matter which one, involves a lot of work, pain and time.

Although the class of 86's player-participation has dropped over the years, the crowd support has been consistent and positive. With football and basketball being the biggest crowd drawers, the senior fans have been there to cheer on all the players at home and away games. The seniors have also attended the less recognized sports, knowing what their players needed to give their all. The spectators really boosted morale for all sports and kept the players giving 100%.

PREPARING FOR THE END . . . AND A NEW BEGINNING

Although the seniors graduated in June, preparations began many months before. During the summer, Seniors ventured into portrait studios around town. Later they were faced with the task of deciding which picture or pictures they wanted. Soon after school started, they submitted their picture to the Spiderweb in which they were recognized in the color section dedicated to Seniors. In October they were measured for their caps and gowns, and if they wished, they could buy extra souvenir tassles. Also in the fall, Seniors ordered announcements for the big event.

During their senior year, students were suddenly swamped with mail from colleges. After deciding on one to four schools, many Seniors anxiously filled out college applications.

While waiting eagerly an answer, many Seniors had the chance to visit the campus of a preferred college. Some students were able to attend lectures given by a representative from an area school such as Quincy College, Beloit, Iowa State or Cornell. After all the application steps had been followed (sending the applications, financial aid forms, ACT scores, etc., Seniors may have applied for various scholarships.

After thirteen years of schooling, hopefully these Seniors can look back and credit MHS for teaching a little more than math, English, science or history. (OH! And don't forget European Handball!) With diploma in hand and caps flying through the air, they finally graduated. With a lot of smiles and a few tears, they couldn't believe that it was over. But really, their lives have just begun. Look out world, HERE THEY COME!

THREE YEARS JUST WASN'T ENOUGH

There are few seniors who have chosen to follow their studies of Mathematics and a Foreign Language to their fourth year.

Craig Bishop, Earl Collins, Tim Conley, Jim Harding, Jim Mitchell, Toby Powell, and John Savage are the first students to take Calculus here. Mr. Helm is tackling the problems of teaching a new class while his young pioneers open their minds to the wonderful world of Calculus.

Composed of only three students, Spanish IV shares the classroom with Spanish III, Darcy Rexroat, Pankaj Gupta, and Cassy Taylor are always eager to help Mr. Kruzan teach the other students.

French IV, the largest of the three classes, is not overcrowded, but the students have more of a chance to interact with Mrs. Leland than they may have had with the larger French II and III classes.

GOTCHA!

ACTIVITIES ACTIVITIES

BOMBER PRIDE

MHS REACHES THE OUTER LIMITS

During the week of Spetember 30 — October 4 MHS banded together in displaying a little different type of spirit. Monday was Tropical Day as students hit the hallways in flowered shorts, thongs, and shades. If you came to school Tuesday, it probably seemed like you took a wrong turn in time. Peace symbols and signs saying "Make love not war" were popular as a high percentage of MHS got into "60's" Day. Alan Balderson, who put a lot of work into always being original, said, "60's day was a trip!"

"This is just one of the many ways that this great institution has broadened my educational background. By God, I'm proud to be a Bomber!"
— Andrea Shane
Sophomore

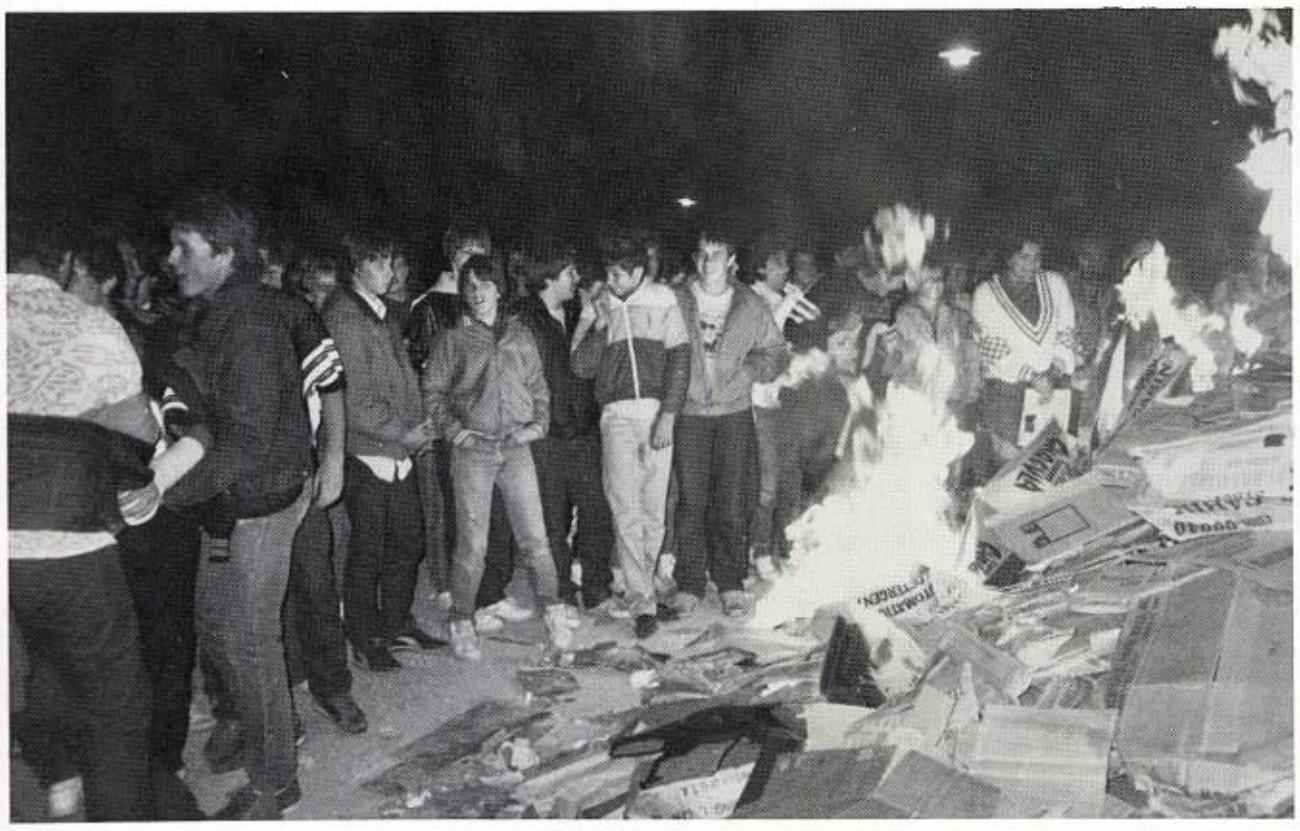
Wednesday we had a Lambda Lambda Lambda Convention as all the nerds united for Nerd Day. If your clothes matched or your glasses were without tape, you really didn't fit in. Greek day was definitely the day when the most people got involved. Togas were bright, flowered, and some even displayed flying cats; even Charlie Brown travelled to classes on sheets. The best part didn't stop there. One had to have fig leaves in his/her hair and wear thongs to be considered an elite Greek.

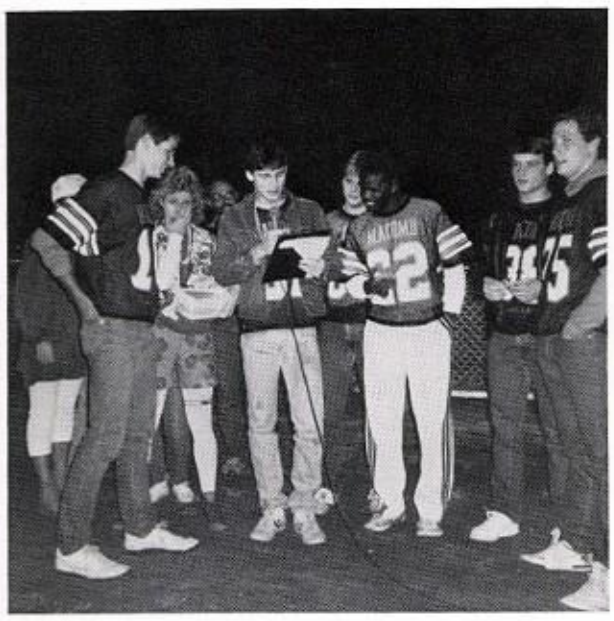
Friday morning everyone's eyes had to focus on orange and black. Bomber Spirit Day provided an outlet for those exotic orange and black outfits we all have in our closets.

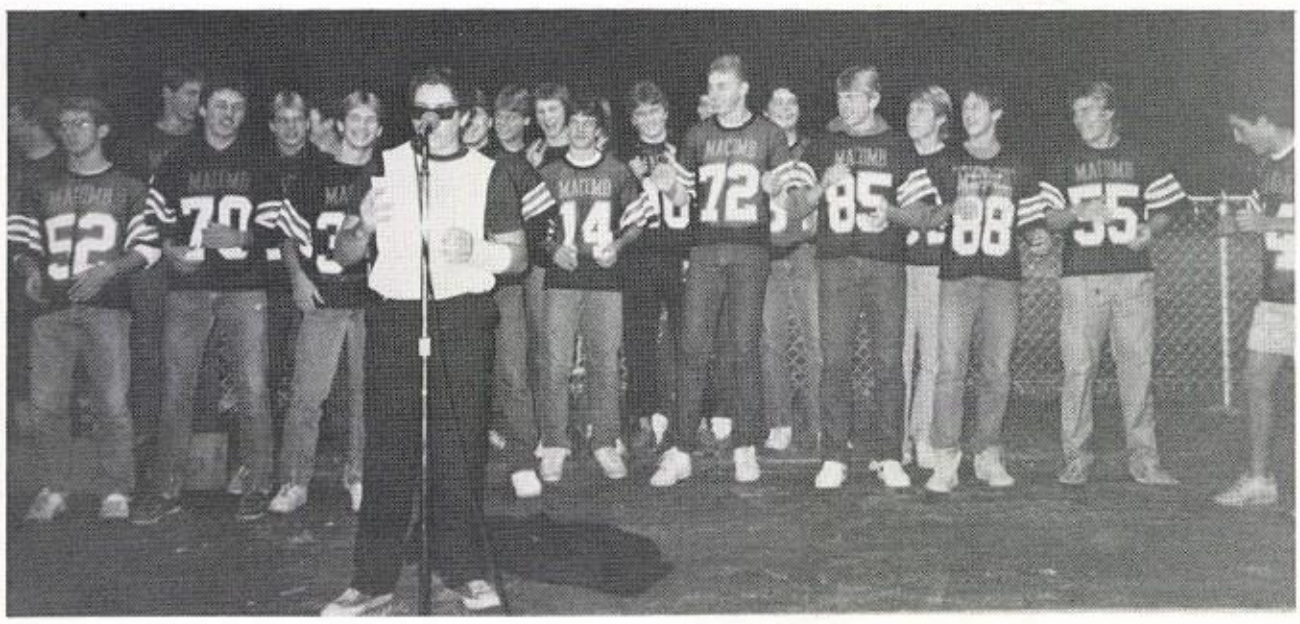
Each morning started as the drummers marched in the hallways to the pounding of their cadence. Winners were announced for the best dressed each day.

Clockwise from top left: Tim Crowley can't find his pocket protector . . . could his brother Jim have taken it? Four eyes are better than two as Kim Dugle and Susie Standard see it. Alan Balderson and Mark Morelli pose with their Greek goddesses Tina Sullivan and Cassy Taylor. When else could Missy Sallee, Kelly Quinn and Andrea Shane unite except on Nerd Day' "Toga's the word", as Julie Wilson, Trixie Clark, and Kirk Mathena show us. Junior hippies have a sit-in in the Commons during Spirit Week.

BY THE LIGHT OF THE MOON







"I said, Shake your foot. Shake, shake, your foot." Anyone who attended Stunt Night on October 2 surely remembers these "famous" words from the Varsity girls' skit, led by Sara Swisher and Cassy Taylor. This skit tied for first place with "Rocko and Bombers," which featured Ron Fizzell rapping with the varsity football team. The varsity cheerleaders did a take-off on a Legg's commercial, and they sang, "Nothing beats a great Bomber Team!"

"The Mamas" based their skit on the song "Whip It" and threw whipped cream into the audience. Kevin Stambaugh emceed the event helping to move everything along swiftly. The freshmen and sophomore cheerleaders helped raise the crowd's spirit by doing cheers in between skits. Michelle Hume and Kelly Whiting "went fishing" and sang about the Bombers to the tune of a popular Oscar-Mayer jingle. The M-Club held a raffle during Homecoming week and drew tickets during Stunt Night. Ten lucky winners won the privilege to have or wear a Bomber Jersey (with any number they chose) on Bomber Day, Friday, October 4. At the end of Stunt Night Homecoming Royalty was announced.

Immediately following Stunt Night, the Snake Dance began. This was different than previous years, as the two events were always held on different nights. Participants snaked around Mac Arthur School, up Maple Avenue, and around to the west parking lot. Soon after, the bonfire was blazing, warming the cheering students around it. To top off the evening, large paper letters spelling MHS were set aflame.

ALL-STAR PARADE

Although cold weather, wind and rain threatened to cancel the parade, at 3 p.m. on October 4, the parade started around the Macomb square. The parade followed a longer route and boasted many new participants. For the first time in twenty-one years, the WIU Marching Band marched in our parade. Former Royalty from Macomb High and students from all but one elementary school also marched. The obligatory class floats were geared towards the "Commercials" theme of the parade. The orange and black "Bomber Car" was an interesting addtion that captured the attention of many onlookers.

The Marshalls were Dave and Phoebe Bormet, the parents of Roman, the varsity football quarterback, and Gretchen, a freshman at MHS. The Honorary Marshall was Walker Baymiller, a 1918 graduate and prominent local businessman.

The parade circled the square and continued to the High School, where the first Homecoming Festival was taking place.

The Festival was created to fill the time gap between the parade and game. Hundreds of participants gathered in the Commons, where they enjoyed a hog roast and listened to the choir. The dunking booth was cancelled due to the inclement weather, but many other activities, such as basketball and cheerleading clinics, were available to the Bomber fans. The festival wound up at 7 p.m., just in time for people to see the Homecoming game.

BLUE MOON . . .

The Homecoming game ended sadly. As a result of the Varsity's slump in the second half, the Bombers finished the night with a loss of 41-7 given to them by Chatham-Glenwood. The Redskins got on the board first on their initial possession. A 63-yard drive gave them these first points. The extra point was no good so the score stayed at 6-0. In the second quarter the Bombers returned the favor with a pass from quarterback Roman Bormet to Junior Tom Sadler. The extra point was successful and gave the Bombers a 7-6 lead. This was the Bomber's only touchdown of the night and the short-lived lead lasted through halftime. In the second half things fell apart. Chatham-Glenwood utilized several Bomber mess-ups to gain additional touchdowns. The Redskin defense held the Varsity squad to 62 yards on the ground and 134 in the air. The rest of the night the Redskins widened their lead with a ruthless offense and an intimidating defense. In the last minute they capped the night with a final touchdown and left the Bombers red-faced.

It can be truly said that the Homecoming Dance was a success. The Homecoming Dance, sponsored annually by Student Council, was held on October 5th from 8 to 11 in the Commons. The weather was bleak, but the atmosphere inside made up for it. The music kept everyone moving as Krossfire provided a sound and light show with the latest hit songs. A gorgeous job was done on the decorations. Pastel streamers and balloons adorned the tables and dangled from the ceiling. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served during the evening by chaperones. Candy mints and flowering decorations appeared on tables throughout the room. At 10 p.m. Mr. Mead announced the coronation of the 1985 Homecoming Royalty. Blake Baily and Von Dunegan were crowned King and Queen of Homecoming '85. Attendants to the queen included Jenny Ackil, Darcy Rexroat, Michelle Hume and Susan Longwell. Matt Margenthaler, Earl Collins, Roman Bormet and Scott Pawlow were attendants to the King.

Following the coronation everyone joined the royalty for the Royal Dance to "Heaven" by Bryan Adams, this year's theme. In rememberance of their night, each couple received an angel decoration with the couple's name on it that decorated the commons that evening.

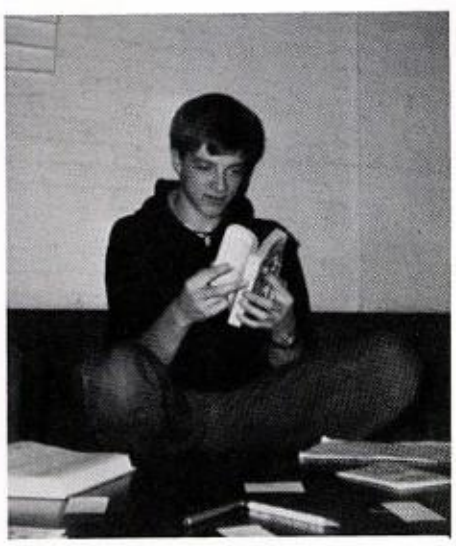
FOREIGN LANGUAGE IMMERSION DAYS

AS THE WORLD TURNS

On October 9-10, six of Mr. Johnson's and Mr. Kruzan's second and third year Spanish Students attended the Spanish Immersion Days at Horn Lodge. Heather Burnham, Beth Harris, Lisa Majeres, Rick Morrell, Yvonne Villanueva and Rachel Chambers participated with other students and native speakers from around the area.

Students signed contracts to speak only in Spanish and then broke up into groups to play "get-aquainted" and "get-used-to-speaking-in-that-other-language" games. In the beginning the participants were shy to speak in a foreign language, but after it was learned that received candy as a reward, many voices perked up and conversations started. Everyone remained busy with foreign language games, conversation, video tapes or helping prepare "authentic" meals.

— Yvonne Villanueva



At the French Foreign Language Immersion, which took place on October 24-25, there was fun for all. The evening consisted of playing indoor games which promoted speaking in French. After dinner and a dessert consisting of crepes, the French students tuned in to several French television stations on the satellite dish. As the evening wore on activities such as watching stars on a watch tower and rendezvousing in the woods were prominent. In the morning outdoor games were played and songs were constantly sung.

The students that participated in this awesome Immersion were: Todd Black, John Carter, Tim Conley, Andrea Frohne, Natalie Helm, Reese Jones, and Daria Roche. — Todd Black

Harvey, directed by Maxine Joyce, was produced as the 1985 Fall Play. Harvey starred freshman Chris Johnson as the eccentric but loveable Elwood P. Dowd. The only drawback to Elwood's otherwise fine character was his peculiar link to a six-foot invisible rabbit.

No one else had the pleasure of seeing Harvey except a reluctant Dr. Chumley, portrayed by Chris Meitus, and at moments of extreme stress by Elwood's sister, Veta Louise Simmons. Veta was played by the only senior cast member, Raina Ames.

Veta's daughter, Myrtle Mae, played by sophomore Kristin Dunstan, was romantically pursued by Mr. Wilson (Neil Armstrong), an attendant at the sanitarium.

Erin Genovese charmed the audience with her portrayal of the stuffy family friend, Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet. Trista St. John played Nurse Kelly, a faithful employee of the sanitarium. During the play, Nurse Kelly reluctantly admitted her amorous feelings for Dr. Sanderson, played by Sam Ridenour.

Chris Tex played the Simmons' longtime family friend, Judge Gaffney. Brittany Strong brought life to the part of the bubbly Betty Chumley, wife of Dr. Chumley. David Crowcroft was the cab driver E.J.Lofgran, who convinced Veta not to give Elwood an injection that would unpleasantly alter his disposition.

Rehearsals bumped along with their share of ups and downs, but they went surprisingly well considering the cast was a fairly young one. Practices did not proceed flawlessly, but when a mistake was made, one phrase repeatedly rang clear and true throughout the auditorium — "HARVEY DID IT!"

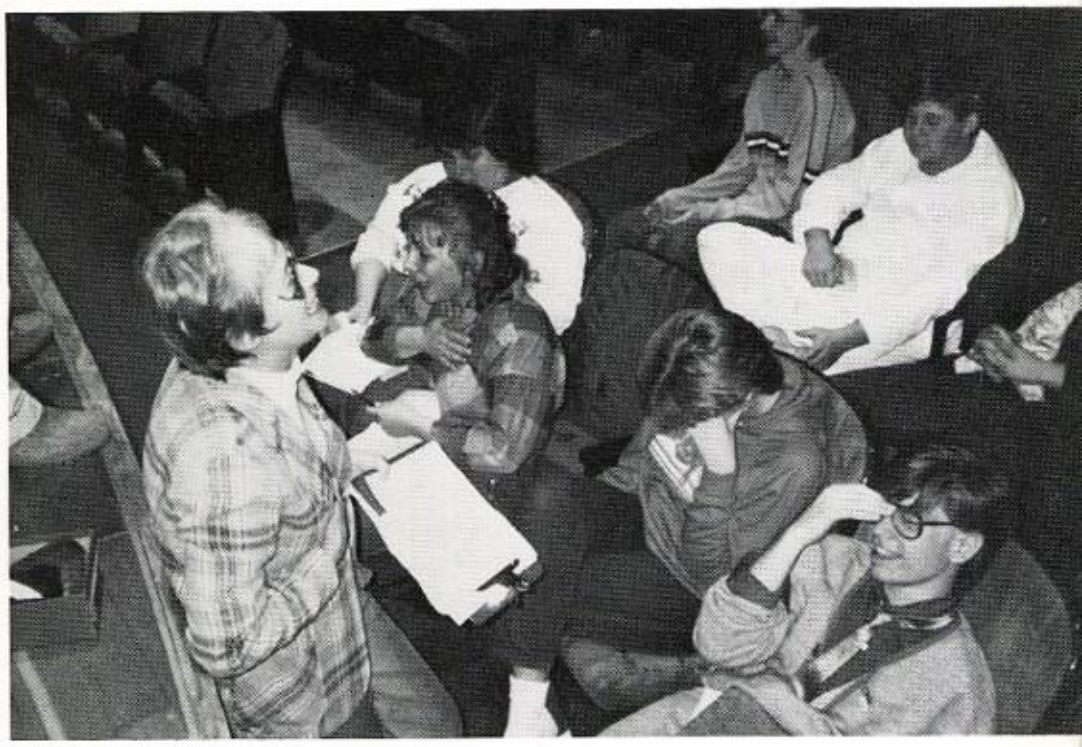
("That's funny, I though Mrs. Chauvenet was dead!")



SADIE HAWKINS

Sadie Hawkins may be one of the four main dances, but it can hardly be called "normal." Not only is the music and attire different; Sadie Hawkins is the only dance where couples can get married. After pictures are taken, couples can be married by Marryin' Sam and Samantha.

The kissing contest was no match for Rob Foster and Jennifer Dugle, as they kissed through twenty minutes of the dance.

Sponsored by the jazz band, Sadie Hawkins began at 8 p.m., Saturday November 23, and King and Queen of Dogpatch, John Meixner and Jennifer Gray, were announced around 10 p.m.

Unlike other dances where girls teeter on their heels, and guys choke on their ties, dancers at Sadie Hawkins relaxed in their flannel shirts, long underwear, overalls, sneakers, and mismatched socks.

SHINING WITH CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Two children's plays were presented for the Thespian Christmas Dessert Theater. A Christmas Eve Letter, directed by Raina Ames and stage managed by Amie Forness, was about Virginia Stevens and her family. Virginia was afraid there was no Santa Claus. She wrote a letter to the editor of their local paper to find out the truth. On Christmas Eve she found out there was a Santa Claus, and all was well again.

The cast included: Sara Meyers, Trista St. John, Chris Johnson, Kevin Loop, Kristin Risley, Amy Newell, and Tom Furman.

What, No Santa Claus?, directed by Mike Newell and stage managed by Jon Neidy, was about Santa taking ill on Christmas Eve. There was to be no Christmas until Mrs. Claus stepped in to save the day.

The cast included: Robert Hughes, Brittany Strong, Lisa Majeres, Margaret Allen, Amie Forness, Christina Royer, Erin Genovese, Meghan Genovese, Mary Voss, and Rachel Robinson.

The plays were performed the evening of December 6. Between the plays, Thespians served desserts, punch, and coffee in the auditorium foyer.

IT'S THEIR CHANCE TO SHINE

Fine Arts Week was held March 4-7, the week after IHSA Solo and Ensemble Contest. There were only three full days of activities, since Monday of that week was Pulaski Day and the only event on Tuesday was an all-school assembly during seventh hour with MHS alumnus Benny Kim playing his violin.

Various solos and ensembles from Band, Chorus and Orchestra, as well as the actors from the one-act plays, came to the library foyer to perform. Also, Mr. Heberling's art classes came to share some of their talents.

Regular classes were asked to sign up before coming to the foyer, so that the limited available space would not become cramped for those who came to watch and listen.

Fine Arts Week is a very good experience for those who participate because it gives students a chance to perform in front of other students and gives those who come to watch a chance to appreciate what their classmates do.

SWEETHEART DANCE

On February 21, MHS held a semi-formal winter dance, traditionally called the Sweetheart Dance. The girls asked their sweethearts out, bought tickets and paid for dinner. Couples commented that "the dance made romances new and old seem special." Sweetheart royalty was picked randomly. This years royalty was Laura Altenbern and Dan Cousins, Jennifer Ackil and Troy Forman, Kimberly Hamm and Scott Pawlow, Erin Genovese and Todd Williams, a returning alumnus.

GRADUATION

It may have seemed as if Graduation would never arrive. After three snow days and the instigation of Pulaski Day in March, Graduation finally arrived Friday, June 6.

Students were actually getting prepared for Graduation many weeks before, whether it was working hard to get an "A" to avoid final exams, or deciding where they would attend college, if they did.

Due to excessive rain preceeding Graduation, Commencement Exercises were held in the gymnasium. Beginning at 7:30 Mr. Longwell opened the ceremony after the MHS Concert Band played "Pomp and Circumstance."

The Concert Choir sang "Like an Eagle" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Kristin Risley and Tomoko Suga played the piano accompaniments.

Steve Morley gave his salutatorian speech titled, "The Past is a Good Place to Think About, But a Rotten Place To Live."

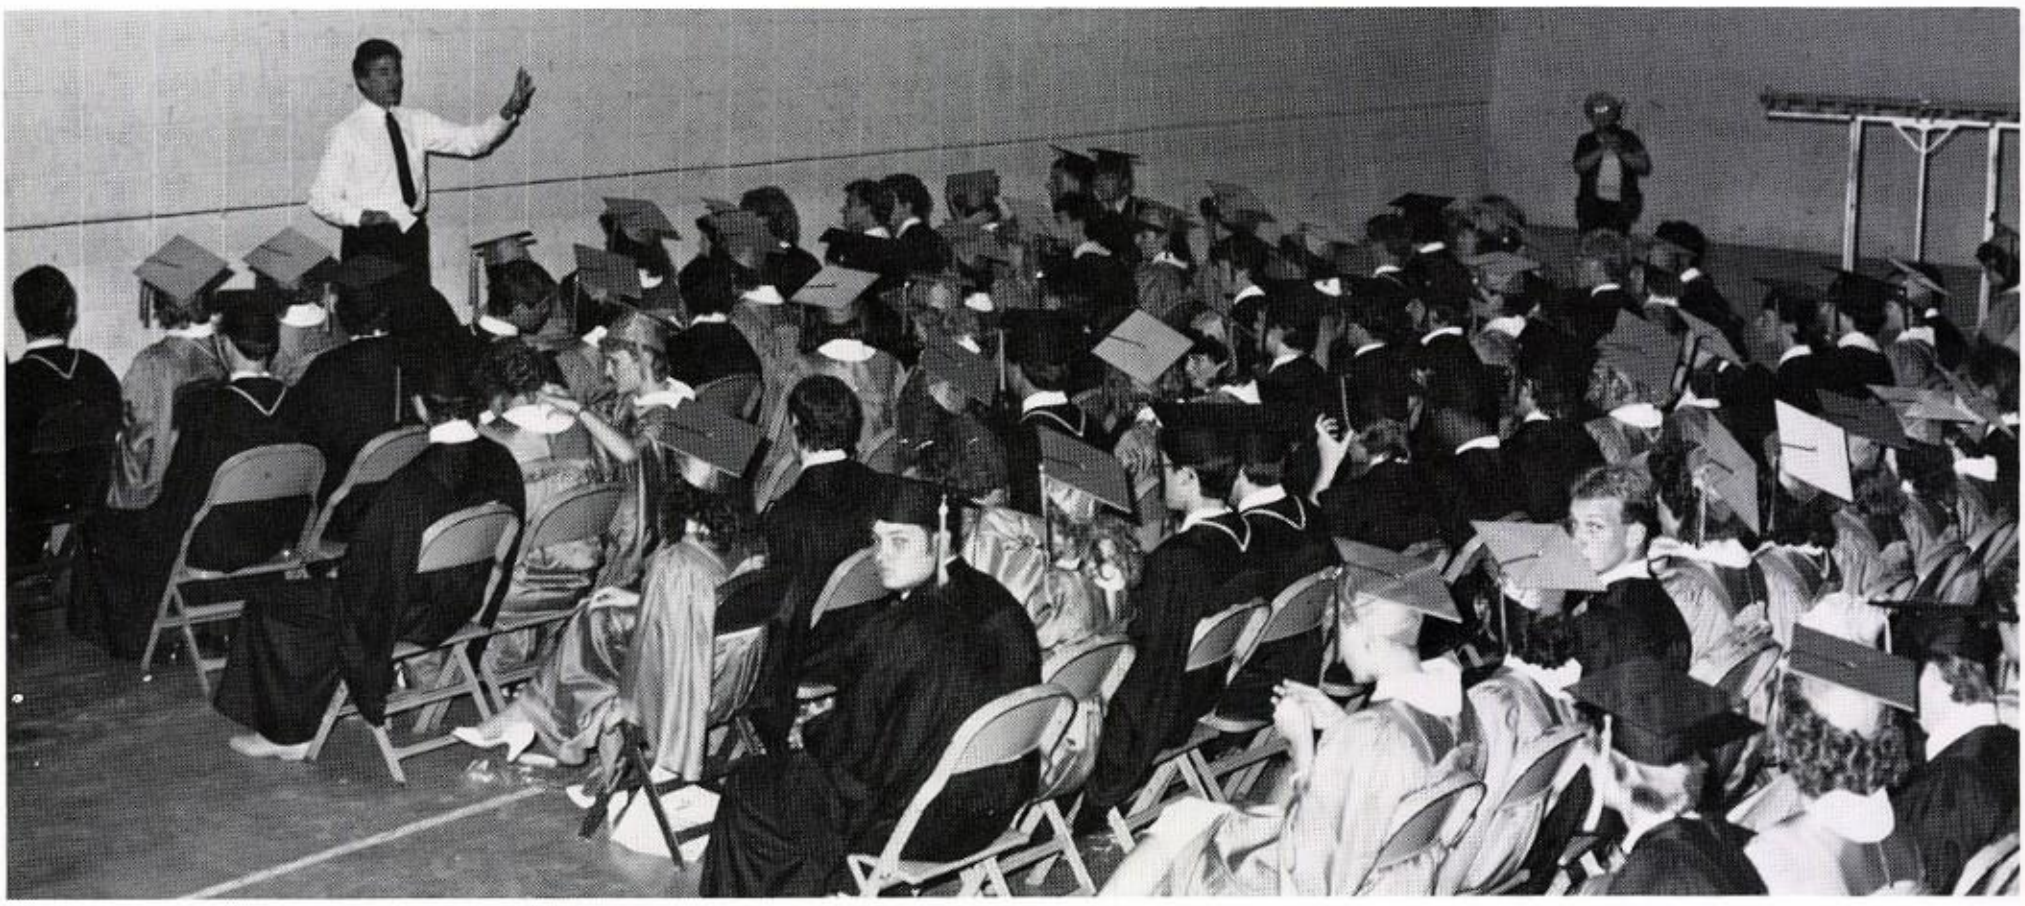
Next, senior french horn player Jennifer Dugle played Morceau De Concet by Camille Saint Saens, with the band playing the accompaniment.

Tim Conley gave his valedictorian speech titled, "The Dream of Tomorrow."

Mr. Danowski then presented the annual Mini-glance at Seniors. Afterwards, the senior class presented Mr. Danowski with a plaque in appreciation of his dedication and time spent preparing the slide show.

Dr. Conley announced the seniors names and they came to the stage to accept their diplomas from Dr. Black.

Mr Longwell closed the ceremony with a prayer and the seniors processed out while the band played "Sine Nomine."



Dr. Bulthaus gives a few last minute instructions to the graduating seniors.

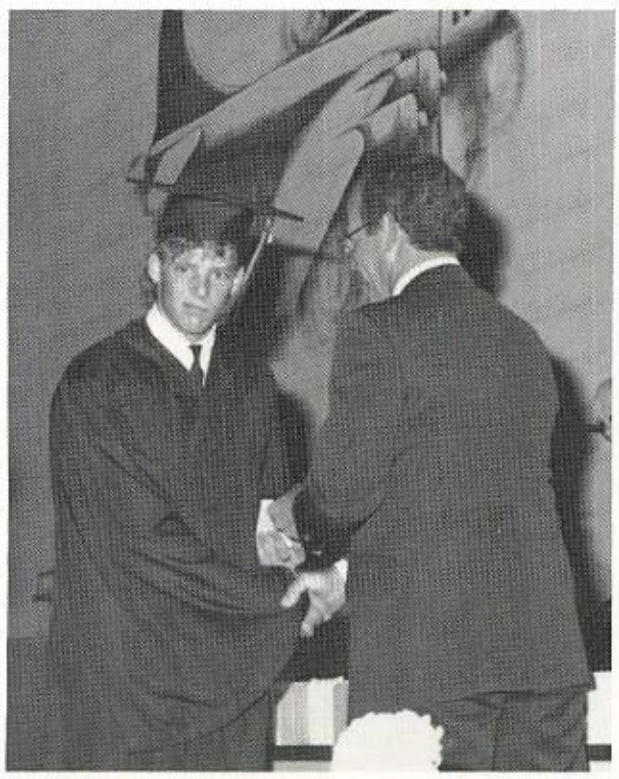
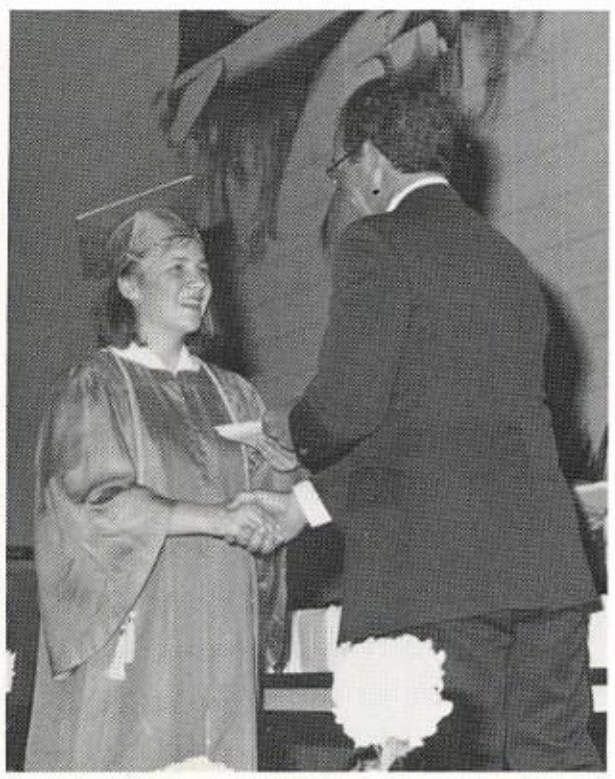
Steve Morley gives his salutatorian speech "The Past Is a Good Place to Visit, But It's A Rotten Place To Live."





PROJECT GRADUATION

Approximately one hour after Graduation some of the graduates returned to the school to participate in a substance-free cruise down the Mississippi River. The Mississippi River Queen was ready for boarding when the busses arrived around 1:00 a.m. Once on board the graduates enjoyed pizza, movies and dancing. During the entire night prizes were awarded to the passengers.

The students arrived back at the school around 6:30 a.m. for a continental breakfast and the drawing for the grand prizes, a stereo system and a 25" television set. The winners were Amy Sherwood and Paul Veronie, respectively.

ORGANIZATIONS

Play it again, band.

The MHS Band, directed by Mr. David Wetmore, met during fifth hour. The year started with marching band. The band went outside every day during the school week and often practiced in ninety degree weather.

What did they get in return for enduring the hot weather? Rained on! Despite several bouts of bad weather, including the Homecoming Game in which temperatures were below freezing, the Marching Band, under drum major Robert Hughes, continued their strong performances. They performed during pre-game and half-time of the football games.

The Marching Band participated in both the MHS and WIU Homecoming Parades. They took first place overall in the marching competition in the WIU Parade.

After football season, Marching Band disassembled and two pep bands formed. Pep Bands A and B alternated performing at all Boys' Varsity Basketball games except one and also played at a Girls' Varsity Basketball game.

Concert Band received a superior rating at Organizational Contest on April 21. At Solo and Ensemble Contest on March 1, MHS solos and ensembles received 30 I's, 20 II's and two III's.

Concert Band performed in the Winter, Pops and Spring Concerts and ended their year by playing the entrance and exit pieces for Graduation and also the accompaniment for Senior french horn player Jennifer Dugle who performed Morceau De Concert by Camille Saint Saens.

INAL SEASON

Brian Coulter rehearsing with other members of the orchestra.

Under the direction of Ms. Allison Kipta the MHS Orchestra performed for the last time, as the orchestra program was cut due to the School Board's attempts to alleviate the School District deficit.

The orchestra, which rehearsed every day during fifth hour, performed with our Choral Department on October 20. Concertmistress and senior violin player Mary Neumann was featured in one piece.

On February 26, another concert was held in which the high school, junior high and sixth grade orchestras played. The high school orchestra played some regular orchestra pieces and also some symphonic ones, when some band members joined them.

The orchestra also played several pieces at the Pops Concert on March 12 in the Commons.

The final orchestra concert was on May 13. The same groups which performed in the February concert also played at this one. The highlight of the concert was the high school orchestra's performance of the second movement of Symphony #1, by junior orchestra member Brian Coulter. The first movement was played at the Spring Orchestra Concert two years ago.

Orchestra members also participated in Solo and Ensemble Contest on March 1 in Bushnell and at Organizational Contest on April 12 in Macomb. At Organizational Contest, the orchestra received a superior rating.

The orchestra was fortunate to have Mr. Jun Kondo, a student teacher from Tokyo, Japan, as a guest conductor at the February and May concerts.

SWING INTO ACTION

MHS Mainstreet met Wednesdays from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. under the direction of Mr. Brett Goad. Members of Swing Choir were chosen from Concert Choir and Mixed Chorus.

Aside from the four annual concerts, MHS Mainstreet participated in two Swing Choir Competitions. At the competition in Pekin, Illinois, the group made their way to the finals and finished in fifth place. The competition in Washington, Illinois, our singers didn't do quite as well, but still came back with seventh place.

Chosen by Mr. Brett Goad out of Mixed Chorus and Concert Choir, Madrigals practiced on Mondays. Due to student conflicts, practice was changed from 7:30 p.m. — 9:00 p.m. to 3 p.m. — 4:15 p.m. Madrigals performed in the Fall Concert on October 20, the Christmas Concert on December 15, the Pops Concert on March 12 and the Spring Concert on May 14.

The Madrigals are different from other choral groups in that they sing a cappella without instrumental accompaniment.

Singing "Lo, She Flies" and "Mon Coeur se Recommande a vous," the Madrigals received a superior rating at Contest.

INCLUDING VISITING WHITE PINES DUDE RANCH

Not many people associate MHS Concert Choir with a Dude Ranch. However, this year's group got a taste of ranch life when they went to White Pines Ranch for a workshop retreat. Funds for the trip came from the sale of cheese and sausage in December.

Under the direction of Mr. Brett Goad, Concert Choir practiced during fourt hour every day. Compiled of mainly juniors and seniors, but also a few sophomores, the 55 member group got their first chance to perform at the Fall Concert on October 20. After their Christmas Concert on December 15, the group split into a boys' choir and a girls' choir to get ready for Contest. At Contest, the split choirs and the combined choir all received I ratings. For the IHSA Sweepstakes, the choir placed second in their class and third in the State.

"It was one of my most favorite classes because I love music. We went to a dude ranch and we rode horses and practiced our music. It was a really fun class."
Stephanie Smithson, Sr.

The group performed at the Pops Concert on March 12 and the Spring Concert on May 14. They also sang at a Brown Bag Concert in Chandler Park on May 21.

They finished the year by singing at Baccalaureate and Graduation.

STUDENT COUNCIL HELPS LEAD ACTIVITIES

Since Student Council is the activity backbone of the school, it is important to have different activities every year. This years' group was successful in sponsoring three new activities for MHS students and faculty to take part in.

This year, thanks to the Student Council and a committee of adults, Homecoming was the biggest it has been for years. The parade and a dance involved more of the community than it had in the past.

Another new activity was the First Annual Winter Olympics. It had been planned last year but weather didn't permit it until this year.

The last big new activity was the Spring Fling for Juniors and underclassmen. It was all outdoors and had games ranging from softball to an obstacle course. It was held on May 30th.

In student Council each class has eight representatives and one alternate. They were chosen by each class, but people who aren't chosen can still become a member by attending meetings and earning points.

The Student Council is sponsored by Mr. Bud Mead.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY ATTEMPTS CHANGE

Change is a good word to describe this year's National Honor Society.

In past years the chapter was an inactive one, but this year a tutoring program was initiated in which NHS members helped students who agreed to participate in the program. Michelle Hume and Darcy Rexroat were very helpful in this program.

This year there were 27 members in NHS. Tim Conley was president; Murali Venugopalan was vice-president and Steve Morley was secretary/treasurer.

Twenty-nine juniors and one senior were chosen for next year's society.

Mr. Ted Johnson was this year's sponsor. "The tutoring program would have been more beneficial if the tutored students would have been more cooperative."

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club had 12 members this year. It met every Monday night at 6:30. The advisors were Mr. Dean Rockwell and Mr. David Dodd. The officers included Craig Bishop, President; Robert Hughes, Vice President; Steve Morley, Treasurer; Andrea Frohne, Historian; and Marie Nollen as Secretary.

The Science Club Fruit Sale was held as a fund raiser. Red apples, golden apples, naval oranges, juice oranges and grapefruit were the items sold.

Three shows were open to all members. One was at Culver-Stockton College on March 1st. The Regional Show at Peoria was held on March 22nd. Finally, MHS hosted a show on April 19th. In order to go on to the state show, which took place in Champaign on May 16th and 17th, the person had to have earned an Outstanding at Regionals. Craig Bishop and Robert Hughes went on to the International Science and Engineering Show as alternates. Internationals was at Fort Worth, Texas, the week of May 12th.

The year ended with an awards banquet on May 19th. Mr. Rockwell presented various awards and certificates to the members.

The Macomb High Ecology Club stared the year with more members than previous years.

The Ecology Club elected for its Government; Audi Shallenberger, President; Richard Shinall, Vice President; Bart Bockenstedt, Secretary; Bob Howard, Treasurer.

The years activities commenced with planting the Greg Aleff and Duncan Foster Memorial Garden.

After several meetings we planned our first field trip. An Eagle watch and a tour of the Hydro-Electric plant in Keokuk, Iowa. This trip was open to the whole school and many people participated.

At the meeting following this trip the Ecology Club elected Jerry Allen to be in charge of recycling for our club. He and others worked to load trucks with glass and paper to be recycled.

Our club then had its first Taco and game night so that all the members could have fun after all the work put in.

The fun and hard work was cut short as spirits failed when the 1986 School Referendom failed. Members were saddened and the Ecology Club dwindled to only our sponsor, Mrs. Palm-Gessner, and three members.

Richard Hummell, Audi Shallenger, and Bart Bockenstedt stayed with the club to the end in June 1986.

Students raised money for the trip by selling pizzas and fruitcakes.

The students toured the cities of Malaga, Torremolinos, Granada, Seville, Cordoba, Toledo, Segovia and Madrid. They also visited La Costa del Sol, El Prado, El Alhambra, Generalife and La Giralda. Some of the nighttime activities included going to a Flamenco Dance and two discotheques.

FACILITATORS HELP YOUNGER STUDENTS.

A few facilitators: Kristen Derry, Michelle Hume, Beth Jacobson, Lisa Majeres, Jay Morgan, Kara Loquist, Karla Chandler, Pankaj Gupta, Jon Dively and Rob Foster.

In its second year the Peer Facilitator program expanded both in number of participants and number of projects.

In the Spring of 1985, students were given the opportunity to become new facilitators. In groups, they participated in a special selection activity involving the current members. The "applicants" were also inteviewed.

In the Fall, both new and old facilitators gave up a weekend to participate in an intensive training program held at the Mental Health Center. Cathleen Barrett led the students in ice-breaker, listening and responding activities. A group known as the Treatment Team helped with the training. The team was made up of WIU faculty and Mental Health Center employees, as well as MHS faculty.

Barbara Skelly, MHS counselor, was a welcome addition to the team. Maria Dunstan continued her involvement in the program.

In October, the Facilitators began the "Edison Adopt-a-Homeroom" program with a special assembly involving the eighth graders.The Facilitators did several audience participation activities to introduce the program as something fun and exciting to the eighth graders.

The Facilitators then visited the homerooms on a monthly basis. Two of three Facilitators were assigned to each eighth grade homeroom. Some topics discussed were peer pressure, drugs, alcohol, activities at MHS and the MHS registration process.

In May, the Facilitators and the eighth graders viewed a film concerning drugs and alcohol. The following week a question-and-answer assembly concerning the same topics was held, led by Bob Chaplin from the Mental Health Center.

A new program involved sixth graders at area elementary schools. Interested students volunteered their time to visit an assigned student once a week.

Their visits took place during study halls and lunch hours. Grade school students identified as having behavior or learning problem were assigned to Facilitators.

The basic objective for the Facilitators was to make friends with the students and to try to make their school days more enjoyable. "I think the grade school program did the most good," commented Beth Jacobson. Students from both Logan and McArthur Schools participated.

Several facilitators met with the Logan School sixth graders to discuss drugs and alcohol. The sixth graders had just finished a special unit on these topics. In pairs, Facilitators met with about ten students. They discussed new things the students had learned.

The students had lots of questions about substance use/abuse at MHS. Facilitators received positive feedback from the students and felt the one-time sesion was a success.

In the Fall, Facilitators Lisa Mussatto and Kristen Derry, Barb Skelly, Bud Mead and some student council members attended a weekend seminar on Project Graduation. Besides learning about Project Graduation, they brought back ideas for activities that were later used at Edison.

At the beginning of the year, the Facilitators decided on "Ears for Peers" as their new name. For some reason the name did not stick and by about mid-year the group was again called the Peer Facilitators.

For almost the entire first semester the Peer Facilitators met every other Sunday night. At these sessions they continued their training with the aid of the Treatment Team and a special book.

Another activity the Facilitators participated in was a special group discussion program involving the students in MHS homerooms. Students who chose to participate in this program met during one class period a week with a MHS counselor, a Facilitator and a Treatment Team member. The purpose of these groups was to provide an outlet for students to discuss feelings and problems in a confidential setting.

The Peer Facilitator group is composed of the following people: Clare Kernek, Michelle Hume, Jim Harris, John Savage, Jackie Friday, Vicki Knox, Misy Prueter, Kristen Derry, Erin Genovese, Beth Jacobson, Jay Morgan, Lisa Majeres, Lisa Mussatto, Jon Dively, Corene Crosby, Jenny Ackil, Melanie Gibbs, Rob Foster, Andrea Shane, Becky Sutton, Kara Loquist, Karla Chandler, Sue Potkay, Pankaj Gupta and Kristin Risley.

In December the club went to Peoria to go shopping for Christmas gifts. After everyone tired out from shopping, they went to Taco Bell for dinner. The club tried to get a taste of different types of food which originated in a different country.

According to most members, the best time of the year was AFS Weekend. AFS Weekend consists of inviting all the Rotary students that are staying in Illinois to come to MHS and spend a weekend with the club. This year out of all the people the club invited only six were able to make it. The people talked about their home countries and showed the club members some pictures.

This year the AFS was unable to sponsor a foreign exchange student because there was a lack of funds. But Julie Alding and Tomoko Suga were a part of the club so it was almost like sponsoring two students.

A Rehearsal For Life

The 1985-86 Thespian Troope was a twenty-two member group sponsored by Maxine Joyce. The officers (Raina Ames, President; Mike Newell, Vice-President; and Sara Meyers, Secretary were elected at the beginning of the year.

The Troope's first project was Harvey. Harvey was Freshman Chris Johnson's debut to the high school theater program as he was given the lead role as Elwood P. Dowd.

Then came the planning of the Halloween Dance as a way of raising money for Theater Festival. A YMCA membership, pizzas, gift certificates, and movie passes were donated from area businesses for the prizes.

Another fund raiser was the Christmas Dessert Theater. These one-act plays ("A Christmas Eve Letter" and "What, No Santa Claus?") were student directed, staged, constructed, and performed.

After earning their money, the members travelled to Illinois State University for a weekend of theater, fun, and friendships. The thespians were provided with numerous workshops to attend, from improv or acting techniques to technical areas of theater.

One-Act plays were not presented as they regularly are, but were performed during Fine Arts Week.

For its last show, MHS proudly presented How To Succeed Without Really Trying.

Future Farmers of America.

Although smaller in number than in the past, Future Farmers of America still participated in many contests.

One of these is known as the Parliamentary Procedure Contest. In this contest, participants take part in a mock business meeting. During the meeting they had to follow strict rules of business. Prior to this contest, participants practiced in groups to learn the rules of conduct.

In November a select group of FFA members attended a National FFA Conference in Kansas City, MO. Members were selected by sponsor Larry McMullen. At the conference, members attended different sessions and business meetings. The conference lasted about three days and was attended by approximately 20,000 students from all over the United States.

FFA members participated in the WIU Livestock Judging Competition. The members worked in teams to judge cattle, hogs and sheep in two categories — Reasons and Non-Reasons. In the Reasons categories, the teams judged the livestock and later made a presentation to the best. In the Non-Reasons category, the teams judge livestock, but do not make presentations.

Members also participated in the Vo-Ag Fair. At the fair they shoved projects in areas of livestock, gardening, crops and dairying.

For fun the FFA held a Pool Night for members at Fellheimer Pool.

Officers included the following people: President — Russ Morey, Vice-President — Eric Vaughn, Treasurer — Kurt Kelso, Reporter — Camie Jackson, Sentinel — Curt Bilbrey and Secretary — Tiffany Hodges.

PROBLEM SOLVERS TAKE STATE BY STORM

The Problem Solving Team finished off the year by winning several awards at the State Competition in Bloomington. The Freshman/Sophomore team placed fifth in the written team competition. In the oral competition the Junior team placed third. Finally, in the individual written competition, Todd Black placed seventh.

During the year the two teams, coached by Deb Kindler, practiced by working on several practice questions dealing with several different world issues, including world hunger, robotics and artificial intelligence.

Macomb students swept the top awards in the scenario competition at the state level. Brent Harzman received first place in that competition.

At the regional competition in Moline, the freshman/sophomore team won first place and the junior team placed second. The problem at regionals dealt with the social problems which would have to be faced with the incorporation of human-like robots into the 21st century society. The state competition consisted of a problem dealing with artificial intelligence.

FHA MEMBERS LEARN ABOUT FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Sponsored by Shelly Standley, the Future Homemakers of America attended a Sectional Rally in Augusta and a State Conference in Springfield.

THE SENTINEL

"The last of the best" was the motto adopted by the Sentinel staff when the staff members became aware of two important endings.

First, as a result of the administration, the Sentinel was made an extra-curricular activity instead of the class it has been for 46 years. Secondly, as a result of the first decision, Mrs. Randolph, who has served as advisor to the Sentinel for 21 years, resigned.

"I have always stressed pride in the finished product," said Randolph. "I don't think I could be proud of what we could do after school as an extra-curricular activity, especially in view of all the other activities students want to participate in."

The pride Mrs. Randolph stressed was passed on for the last time to the following students: Editor, Pankaj Gupta; Associate Editor, Marli Woolam; Make-up Editors, Mary Neumann, Daria Roche, Cassy Taylor; Feature Editor, Kim Draeger; Feature Staff, Mike Newell, John Savage, David Voss, Toby Fizzell; Sport Staff, Tim Hanson, David Husband; Business and Advertising Staff, Michelle Hume, Darcy Rexroat, and James Mitchell.

The yearbook started off to a good start as about forty people arrived at the first few meetings. Because of a new ad selling quota, the staff dwindled down to eight members. These few didn't seem to be slowed down because of the low number. That is, until after about four months into the year.

Unable to find days when a majority of the members could meet together, the staff suddenly got very lazy and were lucky to even half-way meet the first deadline.

Their growing ambition that pushed them in the beginning of the year never caught up with them. By the end of the year, over two-thirds of the book still had to be laid out.

The location changed from the school to Mr. Johnson's house due to the closing of the school. The staff worked vigorously trying to get the book finished and looking decent, however that well-done book will have to wait until a staff can develop that won't be as lazy.

Junior Julie Senn unleashes a vicious spike.

The Varsity Girls' volleyball team didn't get the winning season that they were trying to dig up. The team finished their season at 5-21.

Coach Shay Lange felt that the most important quality that the team lacked during its season was consistency. The team did have a couple of good games in its season. The most memorable was the first round upset of Eureka. Eureka, a class A school, was top ranked coming into the tournament.

Lange feels that next year the squad should be showing more consistency and will be a solid team.

The awards at the end of the season went to: Angie Guarin, most improved; Laura Allison, best offensive player; and Michelle Rogers, best defensive player.

The captains of this year's team were Seniors Janet Loop and Michelle Hume.

"Since we did lose a lot of starters, it took us a long time to rebuild. It takes more than one season to do that," stated co-captain Michelle Hume.

The Girl's Junior Varsity volleyball team started their season two weeks before school started with 21 players. Because of the large number of players, the coaches had a difficult time giving everyone an acceptable amount of playing time. To alleviate this, the coaches set up a couple of unscheduled games to give the girls more playing time.

"Our season was jumpy; we started out pretty well, but then towards the middle of the season we weren't doing so hot. I think our year ended pretty well, though. We had a record of 8-8," — Thyra Nelson.

The starters consisted of Missy Hart and Thyra Nelson (freshmen, setters); Missy Nelson, Cathy Smith, and Cathy Miller (sophomores, spikers); and Natalie Burnham (freshman, spiker).

Missy Nelson and Missy Hart each played on the varsity team during the year.

"Overall we had a pretty good time. We had lots of fun on the bus for the away games. Even though we had to work hard, and it was frustrating, practice was a good time to be with friends and have fun, too," concluded Nelson.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

BOMBERS BUST OPPONENTS' HOMECOMING

This year the Varsity football team had fun ruining everyone's homecoming ... and unfortunately, that included theirs. Following a bitter defeat from Chatham-Glenwood on homecoming, the Bombers went to Jacksonville and Quincy Notre Dame, won both games, and gained enough momentum to finish with a record of 3-6 overall and 2-2 in the GMC. The Bombers' other win was over Taylorville, a new opponent on the Bombers' schedule.

During the season, senior Tonye Amachree gained 737 yards rushing, had nine touchdowns, and averaged 5.0 yards per carry. Senior quarterback Roman Bormet completed 43.2 percent of his passes for a total of 1052 yards, including seven touchdowns. Junior Troy Protsman led the team with receptions for 295 yards and three touchdowns. Senior Earl Collins came close with 18 receptions for 257 yards and two TD's.

Coach Joe McLaughlin feels that with next year's returning letterman Macomb will be a tough opponent in the upcoming '86 season.

The Varsity football players that received awards this year were: Tonye Amachree and Roman Bormet, best offensive backs; Craig Runkle, best defensive back; Chuck Price, best offensive lineman; Max Ford, best defensive lineman. Ethan Moulden was awarded Mr. Hustle. Also, Eric Vaughn and Curt Bilbrey were voted the Mike Cazalet/Mitch John Award.

(Middle row) Derek Carle, Rob Simmons, Kurt Forness, Kent Loop, Scott Tournear. (Sitting) Eric McKee, Sean McKinney, Clay Mason, and Chad Price.

The Junior Varsity had the best record of all three football teams this year with a 4-4 mark. Their four wins were against Keokuk, Quincy Notre-Dame, Jacksonville, and Chatham-Glenwood. Against Q.N.D. they won by the impressive score of 39-0. Quarterbacks Scott Kaufman, Kurt Forness, and their leading rusher, fullback Chad Price, led the J.V. team to their four victories. Coach Joe Moulden and assistant coach Bud Mead both felt that the most important aspect of the season was the team's improvement.

"I think the fact that we came back and won four of the last six games shows our players had a lot of spirit and worked hard to improve."

— Coach Moulden

The awards at the end of the year went to Chad Price, outstanding offensive back; Greg Krepps, outstanding offensive lineman; Shane Williams, outstanding defensive back; Eric McKee, outstanding defensive lineman; and Rick Thorman, Mister Hustle.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

BABY BOMBERS HAVE 0-7 SEASON

The freshman football team finished their season with a disappointing record of 0-7. The record however, was not a good representation of the effort and talent that was put into the team. As all football players know, the first year you play is often the most awkward.

Many of the games that the freshman team played were lost by only a touchdown or so. At many games, if the team had a little more experience it would have won. Well, better luck to the Baby Bombers next year.

Coach Mike Sartore led the MHS Harriers cross country team through a disappointing 1985 season. Their less than spectacular performance was due to the fact that there were only five people (all seniors) on the team.

"If someone was injured or absent, we didn't have a full team," commented Jim Mitchell, the team captain. "That's what made our record weak."

When asked what the team's record was, Mitchell replied, "The only people I think we beat were the Beardstown 'River Rats.' That was because it was late in the season so most of their people had quit the team."

Eighth grade running phenom Dan Iverson practiced with the team, as well as JV team members Peter Mitchell and Andrea Shane.

Senior team member John Savage summed it up by saying, "The lack of athletes was definitely detrimental to our performance."

The Girls' Golf Team, with Seniors Angie Wayland and Jennifer Bulthaus, finished their season with a record of 1-7. Their season came to an abrupt end with a loss at regionals and the unexpected death of longtime coach Dorothy Roe.

Cathy Bradley and Jennifer Bulthaus qualified for the sectional tournament in Galesburg as individual competitors, but did not advance to state.

The Low Stroke award went to Cathy Bradley for the second straight year. The team had a lot of young players and will surely improve.

The Boys Golf Team, coached by Mr. Gary Saunders, ended their season with a record of 5-4. Scott Pawlow and J.D. Lantz were the seniors on the team. Both played well in key situations.

The team was over-balanced with juniors this year. There were seven juniors on the team, and next year's team should have a lot of senior experience.

The Bomber Golf Team finished eleventh in the regional tournament at Springfield; therefore, neither the team nor any individual advanced to sectionals.

The Low Stroke Award was given to junior Tim Crowley.

GIBBS WINS GMC, GOES TO STATE

Seventeen players, including three seniors and seven freshmen, made up the Girls' Tennis Team during the 1985-1986 season.

The highlight of the season was senior Melanie Gibbs' Greater Midwestern Conference championship and trip to compete in the Illinois State Tournament. Gibbs finished the season with a 16-1 singles record. She and junior Heidi Samuelson combined for a 7-0 doubles record.

Although the team record, 2-7, was not spectacular, Coach Rooney Dively noticed marked improvement throughout the ranks. Progress was made not only by the top six players, but also by the freshmen, some of whom did not own a tennis racket prior to the season.

A sense of camaraderie prevailed at practices and meets. Senior Anita Rao and junior Heidi Samuelson commented: "Even though we didn't win a lot of meets, we all had a lot of fun. Rooney is a great coach."

The team will lose Gibbs, Rao, senior transfer Tracy Edmonds and exchange student Julie Alden at the end of the season. Their experience will be missed, but Dively looks forward to working with her "potentially talented" younger players. But to improve their record, she says, "We'll need to practice more."

At the fall sports banquet, Gibbs was honored as the team's number one player. Rao was the most improved.

BOYS' TENNIS

NETTERS GAIN EXPERIENCE WITH 1-11 RECORD

The Macomb High Boys' Tennis Team finished the year with a 1-11 record under first year coach Sandy Lummer. The only "win" was a forfeit by the Fort Madison team.

"Actually, we didn't have a bad season for the caliber of players we had. The team was mostly made up of sophomores and juniors who hadn't played in a meet before, and one inexperienced senior," commented Lummer.

At the Greater Midwestern Conference meet in Quincy, Macob's number one and two players, Perry Sheikh and Jason Kubasak, each won their first round matches before falling in the second round.

"The team will be stronger next year," said Lummer, "because most of the guys will have varsity experience. Some of the guys didn't get to play a whole lot this year, but their rackets sure came in handy when someone else broke a string."

Award winners for this year's team were: Number One Player — Perry Sheikh, Most Improved — Tom Furman.

Sophomore Craig ("Vern") Entwistle summed up the season: "Well, we had fun, and no one got hurt."

The 1985-1986 Girls' Swim Team finished their season with a 1-8 record.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Varsity girls, under new coach John Bushmire, were in some ways "experienced" and in other ways "young." Yet this team always stuck together.

With a record of 4-18, it may have seemed as though this team was in need of some confidence. That piece of confidence came when playing a Greater Midwestern Conference rival, Hannibal, in Hannibal with the Macomb girls winning 54-51. This was the first win for the Bomber girls against Hannibal since the GMC was started in 1982. That game was also a high point for Junior Cindy Blaylock, who had a season high of 28 points.

The season was a good one for Senior Dietra Boyd who pulled down a school record of 212 rebounds which had been set in 1978.

The Most Valuable Player Award went to Dietra Boyd who was also picked for the Macomb Daily Journal All-area team and honorable-mention for the GMC. Miss Hustle was shared by Cindy Blaylock, who was picked for the GMC 2nd team, and Heidi Samuelson. Miss Defense and Best Freethrow went to Lynn Ann Boon.

The Girls' Varsity team was lucky to have foreign exchange student Tomoko Suga from Japan as a member of the team.

The Boys' Varsity Basketball Team had a 15-11 record in regular-season play under coach Troy Parham.

The team fought well against rival Canton, whom they played four times. The Bombers lost the first game, and were blown out at the Western-Macomb Holiday Tournament by more than 40 points. They returned later in the season to win in triple overtime at Canton. They lost the final game for the regional championship to end their season.

Other season highlights included wins over Monmouth, Aledo and Hannibal in the season finale.

Matt Margenthaler rewrote the IHSA free throw record by sinking 51 in a row to beat the old record of 50. The 51st came in Hannibal during the regular season.

Matt was also honored by being selected for the first team All-GMC team. Jim Yeakel was picked for the second team.

"They've got some potential," said Coach Rakers. "They could be very successful in the new conference. We had eight or nine players who could make varsity, and maybe two or three starters."

The team started the season by running sprints and distance through the trash can infested hallways. There's nothing like running a mile in the halls and colliding with an innocent bystander! As the season progressed, the team smoothed out most of its glitches.

The strongest component of the track team in the 1986 season was the sprinters. Duane Edmonds repeatedly lead the relays and sprints to grab firsts. Jon Dively also had a strong showing in many meets. The Bomberettes started the year out with their appearances at the home football games. There they performed marching maneuvers as well as feature routines. They also led the marching band through the streets during the WIU and MHS Homecoming Parades.

The Bomberettes' basketball season routines consisted of more stunt routines then they've been known to do in the past. They were dressed as cops and civilians as they danced to "No Parking On The Dance Floor." Greasers and 1950's teenagers are what they resembled as they danced to the Pep Band's renditions of "Barbara Ann" and "Bandstand Boogie." Yes, slicked-back hair, white t-shirts, tattoos, and all.

The Bomberettes raised money for the Muscular Dystophy Association this year by performing a kick routine at the last home basketball game. They received pledges of money for the 45 kicks they did in the routing to "She Works Hard For The Money."

INTRAMURALS

This may not be the pros,

but then we're not Kareem Abdul Jabbar.

Intramural basketball is not the best thing to everyone because not everyone likes basketball, much less knows what double dribbling is. However, the best thing about intramurals is that anyone can play — that is, providing they aren't on a varsity team.

For the low fee of $5, students can get a team together, make up a name, and arrange to get team jerseys if that makes them happy.

The intramural program is run by the YMCA and the referees are also provided by them.

18 teams formed and most teams played nine games. The Monsters were tournament champions with The Sting and The Warriors in second and third place respectively.

Most games were played in the Washington Street gym, but due to School Board meetings, some games were rescheduled at the High school gym.

The Winter Olympics . . .

IT FINALLY SNOWED!

When they said Olympics, they weren't kidding! The "opening ceremonies" began with ten students representing the various areas of Macomb. Other students carried flags onto the "playing field." Tim Frazier announced the opening ceremony and the activities began.

Mass volleyball games were played in the gym while other volleyball teams played outside in the snow. There was also a snowball throwning contest, angel-making contest in the circle drive, and cross-country skiing.

Students attended first through sixth hours and the Olympics were held during seventh and eighth hours. Students were required to stay on the school grounds because it was still part of the school day.

Eric Vaughn, Cindy Blaylock and Greg Kreps display their flags for opening ceremonies.

The Spring Olympics

A SUCCESSFUL IDEA.

Presented for the first time, the Spring Olympics were held May 30 during seventh and eighth hours.

After fifth and sixth hour classes, a barbeque lunch was provided with the activities following at 1:30 p.m.

Softball games were being played at the Girls' Softball Field. Volleyball was actually pseudovolleyball because it was played on the football field over the goal posts. The ball wasn't the standard ball — it was a beach ball. Also, there wasn't a limited number of hits, and even if the wind took the ball all over the field, it would still be in play, providing it didn't hit the ground.

An obstacle course was set up including the ropes for the football team and the high jump. Ethan Moulden had the record with 44 seconds.
